GOVERNOR COX IN LAST SWING BEFORE ELECTION

Last Stand In What Is Termed Doubtful
State.

By the Associated Press
Enroute With Governor Cox, Oct. 25.—West Virginia today was visited by Governor Cox in opening the last full week of his presidential campaign. Nine addresses in this so-called "doubtful state" were on the democratic program today, beginning with an early morning speech at Hinton and including an afternoon address at Charleston and a night meeting at Huntington.

That several trump cards were ready for the campaign windup was promised by the democratic management. The league of nations issue, however, it is said, will continue the chief appeal to voters by Governor Cox and other democratic speakers.

The candidate was expected to make six rear platform addresses today, and tomorrow will speak at three towns with a night meeting in Cincinnati.

NEW ROAD TO MAKE ACCESS TO MEXICO EASY

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Mexican government and the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad company have reached an agreement under which the company is to construct a railroad about thirty-five miles in length from Del Rio, Texas, to Alamo, Coahuila, on the Mexican International railroad, the department of commerce was advised by Mexico City officials.

The new road will afford a direct route between Kansas City and Mexico City, with a saving of 24 hours in time. The trades commission said, there would be an equal saving in time on the route to the Pacific coast over the Southern Pacific railroad.

JIM HARRIS HINTS AT WAR NOVEMBER 2

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 25.—Will a literal war between democrats and republicans be staged in the heat of the election November 2 over Oklahoma?

This was the hint given by Jim Harris, republican state chairman, who announced last week that the G. O. P. organization would give no quarter to the "democratic machine" election day.

"We have submitted without more than casual protest for 12 years," said Harris without excitement, "but we are thru with it this year. We are going to have a perfect working organization in every county, and instructions to all are to stand for nothing."

"Watch the Count."
"Our strength will become more evident when the polls close and the official counting begins," said Harris.

Charges that the democratic election officials were seeking to hinder republicans from registering have come repeatedly from John Appleby, G. O. P. secretary. Appleby has instructed all republicans that instances of registration irregularities would be carried to federal court for settlement.

Appleby Thursday said he was certain distribution of ballots over the state would leave many precincts, particularly in oil counties, without sufficient ballots.

"This is no fault of the state election board," Appleby said, "but just due to the fact that certainly many are registered in these precincts of which the state board knows nothing about. Enough state ballots have been printed, I know."

"I have instructed all county organizations to watch the ballots, and to begin printing more if a shortage develops in any community."

The WEATHER
Tonight and Tuesday generally fair. Somewhat warmer Tuesday.

Kansas Educator Praises Ada High

Dr. William A. McKeever, director of juvenile welfare for the national board of temperance for the Presbyterian church, believes that Ada stands a good chance of winning the better cities prize offered by the Rotary club of Shawnee for the best city in Oklahoma in which to rear a family. Dr. McKeever, who holds an honorary professorship in the University of Kansas after twenty years of service in that institution, addressed the student body at the high school this morning. At noon he addressed a joint meeting of the Lions club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Ladies Auxiliary.

"As matters now stand," Dr. McKeever told a News reporter, "Ada has an excellent chance to win the prize of $2500 being offered by the Rotarians of Shawnee to the city which scores the highest as a place in which to educate and rear the young. You have good churches, happy home life, an excellent business situation, a high ranking normal school and all the other elements of success. Your public schools are unusually good. I met your young people at assembly at the high school this morning, and found there, in many respects, the most commendable high school spirit I have known in this state or any other state."

"I visit many schools throughout America and am writing to an audience of millions. It is my purpose to tell these how the Ada high school has solved the problem of home study and certain of the difficult moral problems, including that of cigarette smoking among the pupils."

NATIONAL GUARD WILL ORGANIZE

427,000 Men Decided On As Peace Time Army of U. S.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Immediate organization of the national guards is deemed advisable, said an announcement today, by the war department.

The reserve and national guard officers of the general staff, on duty in the department, have been ordered to visit the state authorities with reference to the organization of the guard division allotted to the various corps areas.

The table of the tentative allotments have been prepared showing the number of troops to be organized in each state under the national defense act. A minimum enlisted strength of approximately 427,000 men must be provided as the peace organization of the national guard.

LOYD GEORGE MEETS MINERS

New Set of Wages Set for the English Coal Miners.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Premier Lloyd George and members of the government this morning conferred with government experts concerning a new set of figures for wages of the coal miners and production of the coal industry. Later the government leaders and representatives of the miners met and continued the negotiations begun Sunday for a settlement of the miners' strike.

It is believed that an arrangement will be reached by which each side can at least claim it has not yielded its main contention. It is asserted that Premier Lloyd George will submit proposals which he hopes will make an increase in the output of coal so certain that it will be possible to grant immediately the increase of wages demanded by the coal diggers. Miners' leaders are quoted as saying they are confident the government will find a way to encourage the miners' claims.

It took 900 cars of coal to operate for 84 days the 45,000 kilowatt steam turbine at Providence, R. I.

HEAVY RAINS ALL OVER STATE

General Downward Trends
in the Mercury Follows Downpour.

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 25.—Generally heavy rains fell over Oklahoma during the last 48 hours, according to reports to the weather bureau here, up to and including 7 o'clock today. The rains were almost continuous in many parts of the state and followed by general downward trends of the mercury. Many stations of the state report temperature as low as 44 degrees.

Ardmore, Chandler, Chickasha, Holdenville, Oklahoma City, Pauls Valley and Shawnee reported from two to three inches of rain in the 48 hour period, while Lawton, McAlester, Marlow, Okemah and Durant reported over an inch of rainfall.

Prospects of flood damage from already rising streams and rivers in the rain soaked portions of the state were given impetus today with reports of heavier rains in these localities. The water level here in the North Canadian river showed a slight decline last night, but the weather bureau officials said it was only reactionary and the river would continue to rise today.

GEORGIA DEMOCRATS OPPOSE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

MACON, Ga., Oct. 25.—"Unalterable opposition" to the league of nations is expressed in the platform adopted today by the Georgia state democratic convention and the state senators are instructed to vote against the covenant. The platform however, endorsed the candidacy of Governor Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt for president and vice president.

READ THE COVENANT

With a presidential campaign based to such a large extent upon one issue, it is important that every voter should have some sort of first-hand knowledge of what that issue involves.

Have you read the Covenant of the League of Nations?

The peace treaty as a whole is long and full of detail not necessary for the average citizen to bother about. But the covenant is only one part of the treaty, it is not too long to read and study, and it is quite clear to anyone who is willing to give it a little careful attention.

Taking somebody's party say-so for a matter of so great importance, historic as well as immediate, universal as well as personal, is the act of a slacker in citizenship. Read the covenant yourself and make up your mind about it.

ADA TO GET INTO RACE FOR BEST CITY PRIZE

McKeever Explains Movement to Lions—Methodist Church Tonight.

"We have been all too slow in discerning that the best business enterprise in which a city like Ada can possibly engage is to furnish ideal care and training to all the members of its growing generation."

Addressing a joint meeting of the Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Ladies Auxiliary at a luncheon in the Harris hotel at noon today, Dr. William A. McKeever, Kansas author and educator, stressed the importance of looking to the future by paying better attention today to those who are to be the men and women of tomorrow.

Doctor McKeever spoke in the interest of the better cities movement. He is sent out by the national board of temperance of the Presbyterian church as juvenile welfare worker. His home is in Lawrence, Kansas. He urged that Ada enter the contest for the prize offered by the Rotary Club of Shawnee for the best city in which to educate and rear children.

"While material wealth is necessary," Doctor McKeever said at the luncheon, "that alone is not a true standard of social progress. The real basis of the wealth and worth of a city is the integrity of its people and the all-around well-being of its children. Educate, train, safeguard and inspire properly these younger members of society and in the future they will produce untold wealth for the service of this and other communities."

"What is more to the point, if you will make Ada one of the most charming and ideal places in which to rear the young, you may expect hundreds of new families to move here for the advantages so offered, and thus incidentally increase the bank balances and the general volume of business."

"The city of Ada is certainly well on her way to an increase in her material, moral and spiritual wealth and the better cities campaign is intended to help her in that particular achievement."

The Lions Club passed a resolution advising that Ada enter the better cities contest and the Chamber of Commerce and Auxiliary representatives present pledged wholehearted support.

Doctor McKeever will return to Ada at a later date and put Ada in the race and give the people all necessary instruction.

Tribute to MacSwiney.

By the Associated Press
NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 25.—Mayor Gillen today ordered the American flag over the city hall, half masted out of respect for Lord Mayor MacSwiney, who he said "is one of the noblest martyrs that ever died for the cause of freedom."

"It is difficult to view MacSwiney's death in any other light, than that of murder committed by Lloyd George and the British government," said a statement issued by Mayor Gillen.

FEVERISH INTEREST IN IRELAND NOW

People Stirred Over Death of the Lord Mayor of Cork.

By the Associated Press
CORK, Oct. 25.—Feverish interest in possible developments following the death of Mayor MacSwiney of this city, is mingled with grief into which his death has plunged Ireland. The people appear stirred to the highest degree of bitterness, yet it is regarded as extremely improbable that there will be any outbreak or disorderly demonstration in this city.

It is expected, however, there will be a considerable extension and intensification of guerrilla warfare against the police and military forces, which, anticipating reprisals are doubling their vigilance, especially in remote districts.

It is understood the Irish parliament has been making appeals to all elements of the population to refrain from violence. This is also believed to be the policy of various influential leaders of the Sinn Fein movement.

Muskogee Woman Spoke in County Last of Week

Mrs. W. M. Gilbert of Muskogee, speaking as a representative of the democratic state campaign committee, delivered an able and interesting address at the city hall in Ada Saturday afternoon. The speech heard by a large audience of ladies and quite a few men. Mrs. Gilbert is considered one of the best speakers engaged in the present campaign in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Gilbert had spoken in Roff and Francis before coming to Ada. She left for Oklahoma City immediately after her speech in Ada.

THE RING

Died at Brixton Prison 5:40 O'Clock This Morning After a Hunger Strike of More Than Seventy-Three Days—Brother and Priest Are Present When End Came.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, died at Brixton prison, this city, at 5:40 o'clock this morning. His death followed a hunger strike of more than 73 days, eclipsing any in the annals of the medical world.

MacSwiney, who had been unconscious for several days, did not recover his faculties before he died. Father Dominic, his private chaplain and his brother, John MacSwiney, were with him when the end came. Father Dominic was at the prison all night and did not leave for several hours after the Lord Mayor's death.

John MacSwiney and the chaplain, who had been visiting downstairs, were told by the prison officials at 4:35 that they should go to the mayor's bedside, as they thought death was approaching. The brother asked for the privilege of communicating with other relatives who were not present, but the officials, it is said, refused him the use of a telephone.

After the prisoner's death his brother and the chaplain were permitted to leave Brixton prison until 6:15. John MacSwiney immediately conveyed word to the widow of the lord mayor, who was staying at a west end hotel with Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, the former being the London executive of the Irish Self Determination league.

Mrs. MacSwiney, accompanied by her parents and the Misses Annie and Mary MacSwiney, sisters of the lord mayor, arrived at Brixton prison at 9:30.

It is probable the inquest will be held at the prison today after which the body will be turned over to relatives.

MacSwiney was unconscious for 36 hours before his death occurred, it is stated. Father Dominic was unable to give him communion but he administered extreme unction.

The cause of MacSwiney's death was heart failure, according to a statement issued at the home office.

As soon as the news of the lord mayor's death began to spread throughout the city small knots of people began moving toward Brixton prison. The police, however, did not allow anyone to move into the street leading to the prison entrance, keeping the people moving so that a crowd could not form.

Fears had been previously expressed that the lord mayor's death might cause a demonstration at the prison.

Two notable controversies, one constitutional and the other theological, have arisen from the case.

BENEATH THE ROUGE AND POWDER THERE IS A HEART

Beneath the rouge and powder and gay make-up is a real heart. A feeble-minded old man sat in the Katy station yesterday waiting for the train that was to take him to Coalgate where he is to be given a home on a farm among kindly people. He had lost his ticket, the ticket which was to take him to his new home, and tears filled his eyes as he fumbled through his pockets in a vain search.

Waiting for that same train were a troupe of chorus girls—the "Virginia Beauties," they styled themselves—who had been playing at the McSwain theater during the past week. Painted and pampered, and dressed in fashion's latest and most extravagant, they strolled about the station, chatting gaily and whiling away the time. They were leaving for another town to sing and dance and caper and cavort for the pleasure-loving crowds.

One of the girls saw the tears running down the old man's cheek. "Why, what is the matter—what are you crying about?" she asked dropping into the seat next to him. In a moment the girls had crowded about him. He told them of the lost ticket and a search was promptly instituted.

"C'm here, you fellers!" one called to four male members of the company. All together they searched, and soon they found the precious piece of pasteboard. He had put it into an inside pocket and forgotten the place.

"Let's chip in an' give him some pocket change," another suggested digging into her purse. There was a rattling of money and soon the old man's pocket was filled.

Then the train pulled in.

"Come on with us, we'll look after you until you get to your town."

And they helped him aboard.

Who said there is no heart beneath the paint and gayety of the show girl?

The old man is H. S. Quinn. He had applied to the Red Cross here for aid. He told Mrs. Orville Snead the home service secretary, that he had once been a dentist in Missouri, and that he knew a Dr. MacDonald in Coalgate. Mrs. Snead called up the Dr. McDonald.

"Send him to me," the doctor replied, "and I will give him a home on one of my farms."

And Mrs. Snead gave him the money to buy his ticket to Coalgate.

Citizens Committee Will Meet To Plan Sale of Tickets

Plans for an intensive drive to sell tickets for the San Carlo Grand Opera will be completed at a meeting to be held Tuesday morning at the Ada Music company's place of business on East Main. The meeting will be held at 10 a. m., and will last one hour.

The following citizens of Ada have been chosen to direct the ticket selling campaign and are urged to attend the meeting tomorrow: Messrs. N. B. Staff, W. G. Moser, J. L. Stansbury, Walter Wray, Frank Finley, Orel Busby, C. C. Morris, N. P. Patterson, J. E. Hickman, Marvin Brown, R. C. Taylor, A. L. Fentem, Joe Cole, Harmon Ebey, Cecil Mallory, Austin Brown, C. P. Penrose, L. J. Little, and Grant Irwin, and Mesdames, M. C. Wilson, John McKinley, Cain, Emanuel, Bill, and Jim Couch.

Sam Schienberg, who has general supervision of the ticket sale, announces that the committee has been made large enough to insure a thorough canvass of the city in very short time. It is believed that the campaign can be completed in one hour's time.

LEADERS OF MILLION STRIKING COAL MINERS IN ENGLAND

Above, Robert Smillie, head of the miners, at right, and Frank Hodges, his chief colleague, leaving a recent conference of miners' executives and, below, Herbert Smith, leader of the Yorkshire miners, explaining a disputed point in the miners' demands to one of the men present at a meeting of miners and coal owners.

These pictures, the most recent ones from England, give intimate glimpses of the men who are leading the 1,000,000 coal miners who struck recently in England, shutting off England's coal supply and throwing hundreds of thousands of men in dependent industries out of work. The strike followed weeks of conferences between the miners, mine owners and the government.

WHITE WOMAN ELOPES WITH RICH INDIAN

SAPULPA.—Tom Carson, full-blood Osage Indian, aged 26, and Miss Ella Miller, white woman, both of Pawhuska, were married here Friday night at 10 o'clock by Justice, of the Peace August E. Plitz in his office. Carson was driving a high powered automobile with three women who drove to the court house earlier in the evening.

Going to the marriage license clerk's office, one of the women, a Mrs. Maude Kincaid, giving her residence as Pawhuska, made application for a marriage license to be issued to Tom Carson, aged twenty-six, and Miss Ella Miller, aged 38. They secured the document and the party departed.

Going to the residence of Justice Plitz they asked him to come to the court house and perform the ceremony. This over, the wedding party left in their car, saying they were going back to Pawhuska.

The groom is reported by Plitz to have been in a stupor all through the ceremony. Carson is reputed to be one of the wealthiest members of the Osage tribe with an allotment of many thousand dollars a month.

Honeymoon Now Classed As Old Fashioned Event

Those who in reminiscence recall the days at the seashore with friend wife, then a bride of a week or less, will regret very much the text of this story.

For honeymoons are surely going and unless the tide turns immediately a wedding trip will be another one of the many things that "grandma used to do."

Any one connected with marriages will verify this story—the license clerk, judge, preacher or professional witnesses.

Back to the Desk. The couples that used to race from the altar to the waiting train, and timed their nuptial services with a time table, are growing fewer.

It is now a race back to the desk or the pick and shovel. It is almost a rule that they marry one day and return to work the next.

And blame the profiteers. No institution could disappear that would leave a trail of more regret.

The average struggling youth who decides to get married doesn't have a bountiful supply of cash. It has been found that honeymoons consume a large supply of this.

There are iron clad rules that a groom must follow.

He must not mention economy for the duration of the honeymoon, without a whimper about cost.

When it comes to tipping, ask the porter and the waiter who is king. He'll say the groom. Seashore and resort dinners come rather high, plus war tax. A suite at the most elite of first class hotels is expensive and as a rule the honeymooners return to work broke or in debt.

Being broke is bad enough but newly married and in debt with small resources is almost a calamity. For did not the bride when at home with papa have every luxury?

Why it Even Causes Divorce. So after all there as those who contend that indirectly the honeymoon is the source of many divorces.

The young man who takes just a day off and has saved several hundred dollars scarcely notices a flutter in the monotony of life. Thus, honeymoons are limited by profiteers and marriage is becoming a colorless, business-like affair.

The average honeymoon of today is a short trip to visit the folks in the home town or a stay for a few days in the country. These are the trips of those who wish to perpetuate the institution.

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on with out help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After talking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman."—Mrs. M. A. R. STENDER, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte Mich.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

Ada, Okla., Oct. 22.
Editor Town Gossip: There have been several articles in the papers of late concerning the clothing—or rather lack of clothing—worn by some of our girls today. I believe the articles do not exaggerate matters. I have a daughter of my own, who, when she goes to a dance, has on about as many clothes as when she goes to bed. Nothing that I can say seems to have any effect. What would you advise doing.—MOTHER.

DEAR MRS. Mother.

AS FAR as I am concerned.

I'M NOT saying anything.

ABOUT WHAT they're wearing.

BECAUSE MY eyesight.

IS STILL pretty fair.

BUT IF you want advice.

MY SUGGESTION would be.

THAT THE next time.

THAT DAUGHTER of yours.

STARTS OUT for a dance.

THAT YOU tell her.

YOU WANT to go with her.

AND WHEN the night comes.

YOU GO ahead to your room.

AND GET dressed.

AND FIND yourself a dress.

THAT IS short enough.

TO REACH above your knees.

AT THE bottom.

AND LOW enough.

TO REACH goodness-knows-where.

AT THE top.

AND THIN enough.

SO THAT you can see thru it.

WITHOUT STRAINING your eyes.

AND THEN I'd go ahead.

IF I were you.

AND ASK the old man.

TO BRING down some.

HOUSE PAINT.

AND I'D daub it on my face.

GOOD AND thick.

SO IT would show up.

RATHER PROMINENTLY.

AND AFTER that.

I'D GO downstairs.

AND SIT around.

UNTIL DAUGHTER came down.

AND THEN I'd say:

"ALL RIGHT, my dear.

"LET'S HURRY up and go.

"I'M ALL ready."

AND I'M willing to bet.

THAT WHEN daughter sees you.

SHE'LL TAKE the hint.

AND WON'T let you go out.

AND WON'T go herself.

AND IF it should be.

THAT SHE didn't say anything.

AND WANTED to start off.

JUST LIKE you are.

ALL I can say is.

THAT YOU'D be out of luck.

I THANK you.

HOG CHOLERA CAUSES UNEASINESS IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15.—Outbreak of hog cholera is causing considerable uneasiness in parts of Kay and Noble counties, according to reports reaching the department of agriculture. Farmers in these counties already have lost a large number of hogs, it is said. Strenuous efforts are being made to check the spread of the disease.

Strict quarantine has been fixed and the serum treatment has been applied.

GIRL WINS COLLEGE FUNDS IN CONTEST HELD BY RAILROAD

Miss Dorothy E. Holloway.

Miss Dorothy E. Holloway of Williamsport, Pa., is the first woman to win a scholarship established under the auspices of the Pennsylvania railroad. The scholarship was established this year to commemorate the work done during the World war by the members of Department No. 3 of the road in making surgical dressings for the American troops, and also as a memorial to the men of the freight traffic department of the railroad who gave their lives in the conflict. Miss Holloway will enter the University of Pennsylvania.

Jury Returns Mistrial.

A jury in the civil court Friday returned a mistrial in the case of A. M. Cummings versus D. E. Price, administrator. Cummings is suing Price for the payment of a note alleged to have been made by Price's father for $2,100, and which came into Cummings' possession by transfer from the original holder. Young Price as administrator of his father's estate, refused to acknowledge the note, contending that value had not been received by his father. Attorneys on both sides fought hard, and the jury could not reach a decision. Six voted for the plaintiff, and six voted for the defendant. The case will be carried over to the next term of court to be tried again.

SOUTH AMERICA IS HARD HIT THEY SAY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 25.—"Every country in South America is in the same fix with its chief product as the southern territory of the United States is in with cotton.

"Values are down to half and the producers are suffering seriously."

The above is the comment by J. Culbertson jr., who with his father, J. J. Culbertson, Paris, Texas, has just returned from a four months' trip into the neighbor continent.

The trouble is even more aggravated than in the United States, he said, because each South American country depends almost altogether on a certain crop, while to a greater degree diversification exists in the United States.

Coffee, rubber, wool and other chief products are utterly stagnant in the countries that depend, respectively, on them for commercial existence.

The Culbertsons left here June 18, went by way of New Orleans, Havana, to Costa Rica, thru the Panama canal, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil and home by the way of New York City.

British and American rivalry is intense for South American trade. Culbertson said, many local jealousies being evident to the traveler. Since the war killed German commercial strength in South America the United States has made tremendous strides toward building up business.

FISHING FOR SUCKERS

Pontotoc county is one of the several counties of the state chosen by the republican leaders to engage in the biennial pastime of fishing for suckers. Their local leaders are again engaged in the biennial game of urging democrats to split their ticket and "vote for the man." And the parties to the appeal are either suckers or hypocrites, for in no republican county of the state are the republican leaders advocating mixed tickets or saying anything about "voting for the man."

Ten days ago we were campaigning in a strong republican section of the state. There their leaders were making the most impassioned appeal to the voters to vote the ticket straight. They denounced as disloyalists all men who scratch a ticket or vote for a democratic candidate. Up along the Kansas line they even go so far as to urge the voters to "vote as you shot," reviving in a measure the slumbering prejudice of fifty years ago. The Tulsa World has even gone so far as to say that all democrats are traitors in 1920 as they were in 1860. It is only in democratic counties that they urge mixed tickets. They never make that argument where it is to their interest to vote the ticket straight.

The appeal for support for "the best man" is never heard today in the eighth congressional district. That district is heavily republican. The republican nominee for congress in that district is the weakest candidate ever nominated for congress in Oklahoma. He is recognized as a mental incompetent by the entire population of the county in which he lives. Every republican in his district knows that Manuel Herrick is an imbecile. His presence on the republican ticket is due to an unfortunate accident. But he is on the ticket and that is sufficient. In spite of his unfitness to fill any office, in spite of his mental condition, in spite of the patent fact that his election would make Oklahoma the laughing stock of the nation, every republican in that district is being lined up for Herrick in the November election. Every republican is being taught that it is treason to scratch his ballot and vote for Zach Harris who is president of the board of trustees of Phillips University and one of the ablest and cleanest men in Oklahoma.

But in Pontotoc County the situation is different. This is a democratic county. A republican cannot win in this county without democratic votes. Therefore the local republican leaders are urging democrats to do what eighth district republicans are told it is treason to do. "Vote for the man" (our man) shout the republicans of Pontotoc. "Vote her straight," shout the republicans of northwest Oklahoma. What they denominate treason in Garfield county they teach as patriotism in Pontotoc. What they urge as patriotism in Pontotoc they brand as treason in Garfield. Thus the game of hypocrisy goes merrily on and the biennial search for suckers is well under way.

JUGGLING THE RECORD

With all due respect to Mr. Clark, who spoke against the league of nations in Ada Friday evening, we are prone to say that he was misleading in his argument when he repeated the exploded story that in the league council Great Britain has or may have 6 votes while the United States has only 1.

The meaning of Article 4 is as plain as the English language can make it. Five nations shall have one member each of the council and these five members shall be permanent. The five nations specified are the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan. In addition to these five members the assembly shall elect from time to time four members from four other nations who shall serve temporarily and shall rotate among the several dozen nations belonging to the league. Until the assembly shall have met and made its first selections the four additional members shall come from Belgium, Brazil, Greece and Spain.

Mr. Clark argued that Canada, British India, New Zealand, Australia and South Africa as members of the league are entitled to membership on the council, and that if all of these colonies should receive council membership Great Britain would therefore have six votes. He overlooks a clause in Article 4 that prohibits the very point he attempts to make.

In Article 4 it is stated clearly, specifically and emphatically that the first five members shall come from the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, but that the other four members of the council shall come from FOUR OTHER MEMBERS OF THE LEAGUE. In other words, the four other council members shall not come from the United States or Great Britain or France or Italy or Japan. They therefore cannot come from Canada or British India or New Zealand or Australia or South Africa, for all of these colonies are included in the territories of the British Empire and the British Empire is limited to one vote in the council.

Even if the language of the league covenant were vague and uncertain the argument of Mr. Clark flatly contradicts the speech of the man Mr. Clark is supporting for United States senator. In his speech at Lawton Mr. Harrel admitted that in the council Great Britain and the United States will have only one vote each.

REPUBLICAN TRICK LETTER IS EXPOSED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 25.—(Special)—"One of the latest republican political tricks of this campaign is just coming to light," declared Cam Campbell, chairman of the state democratic committee, tonight. "Two months ago there was circulated throughout the east a letter purporting to have been signed by George C. Canol, 49 Broad street, New Jersey, president of some liquor dealers' association. This letter urged those receiving it to support Governor Cox as a means of defeating prohibition. The letter was almost immediately proven to be an absolute fake and forgery. This, of course, stopped its circulation in the east but evidently has not deterred the republican state organization here from using it."

"Thousands of copies of this letter have been printed and sent to the various republican county committees throughout the state with instructions to mail these letters in plain envelopes, addressing them to well known prohibitionists and members of the W. C. T. U. In some counties as many as one thousand of these letters have been mailed. Of course, when such a letter falls into the hands of a strong advocate of prohibition, purporting to come from New Jersey, if he has not already read about the letter being a fake, he is at once inclined to be opposed to Cox."

At the New Liberty. "Wolves of the Street," Art-O-Graph's latest release, which opens today at the Liberty theater, carried with it a thrilling story based on the activities of the Bolsheviks in America. It shows the efforts of the soviet agents to cripple Uncle Sam's great wheat industry.

The skulking Reds are apparently successful in their underhand deeds until out of the west, like the gallant Lochinvar of old, rides a youth who masters the situation and succeeds in baffling the foreign agents. Edmund F. Cobb, Art-O-Graph's popular young leading man, is cast as the westerner. He is capably supported by Vida Johnson.

At the American. Is a "white lie" justifiable? Becky Warder, (Madge Kennedy) thought so. She wanted to bring Fred and Eve Linden together again and in her quixotic efforts she placed herself in ambiguous situations with the profligate husband of her best friend. Also, she lied continuously to her own husband. Becky tangled herself in a net of deceptions, and when she was finally driven to "The Truth," her husband's faith gone, refused to believe her.

In this situation which furnishes the great climax to Clyde Fitch's masterpiece which Goldwyn has pictured with Miss Kennedy as Becky. The young matron learns in a bitter hour that a "white lie" is little different from the other kind. Becky's father was a good-natured scapegrace, ruined by gambling, who had brought up his daughter in an atmosphere of lies. When her husband leaves her, she returns to her father, who is disconcerted by the turn affairs have taken, since a good deal of his ready money comes from his son-in-law. He schemes to effect a reunion by more lies; and it is in the discovery of these that Becky has her opportunity to rise superior to her upbringing and prove that "The Truth" is in her. "The Truth" may be seen at the American Theater where it will be shown today.

At the McSwain. The U. S. A. Musical Comedy company, which opens at this popular playhouse today for a week's engagement, has with them one of the best harmony quartets to be found on any tabloid company in the southwest. A clever comedian is Jimmy Alford. Beautiful scenery and elaborate costumes, with a chorus of beautiful singing, dancing girls. On the whole, this is one of the best shows Ada has had for a long time.

On the picture program a Paramount picture starring Robert Warwick and Bebe Daniels. The Fourteenth Man. A spirited boxing mill is a feature of "The Fourteenth Man," the picture attraction at the McSwain Theater for today. Robert Warwick and Norman Selby, who used to be known in his prize ring days as Kid McCoy, are the principals. According to the story, Warwick is a romantic adventurer. He and Selby are rivals for the same girl and, learning that Selby is entered in an amateur boxing contest, Warwick persuades the people in charge to match him against the professional.

Warwick had the unique experience of being trained for the bout by the man whom he fights before the camera. The film player as is well known, is one of the huskiest in the profession and, in addition, is an amateur boxer of no mean ability. With the added bundle of ring tricks taught him by Selby himself, Warwick donned the gloves well equipped to give the Kid the battle of his life—and does so.

Bebe Daniels is the leading woman in "The Fourteenth Man," and the cast also includes Viora Daniel, Sylvia Ashton and Walter Hiers. Joseph Henabery directed and the picture is a Paramount Aircraft.

What San Carlo Co., Offers Opera Loving People of This City

Coming to the McSwain theater under the local management of the Community Lyceum committee a week from today, the San Carlo Grand Opera company brings to Ada an organization of artists, chorus and orchestra which for four weeks not only packed the Manhattan Opera house, New York, at everyone of thirty-two performances, but demonstrated beyond doubt that the people want grand opera at popular prices.

Of the stars that made such a season possible, Bettina Freeman has been chosen by Fortune Gallo to appear in the one performance to be given here and a vehicle for the expression of her artistry and that of her supporting company he has selected "Il Trovatore."

The San Carlo has always given good, adequate opera, but this year it is presenting opera on a metropolitan scale, as demonstrated by the enthusiasm its performances evoked in New York, Cleveland and Detroit. Indeed in Cleveland, every ticket was sold more than a week before the first performance.

Fortune Gallo has been covering "The San Carlo Trail" for nine years now, and each year he brings something better, new artists, the old favorites and a constantly improving chorus and orchestra. The result is that the San Carlo is the only permanently organized company of its sort in the country, and it is the only grand opera organization that ever has paid a profit year in and year out.

It is not surprising, therefore, that city after city from coast to coast and from the gulf up into Canada welcome its coming more warmly each season. The San Carlo brings to music lovers what otherwise they would be forced to do without—their annual feast of music drama.

As usual, prices are kept within the reach of everyone, orchestra $3.00 and balcony $2.00.

For Grand Opera Reservations. In reserving your seats for San Carlo grand opera at the McSwain or any other performance given at the McSwain, you will find the ticket board at the box office throughout the season. Tickets are being sold at several popular business houses around town and some by a committee for Monday night but it will be necessary to go to the box office and make your reservations. The board is open all ready and the best seats are being taken. So make your reservation early and remember to go to the box office for each program ever afterward.

TIDAL WAVE TOWARD DEMOCRATS IS ON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Another indication of the tidal wave of public opinion sweeping to Governor Cox is the great number of former republicans and progressives who are volunteering their services as campaign speakers for the democratic national committee. In a telegram to Cam Campbell, chairman of the state democratic committee, Representative James V. McClintic of the Seventh Oklahoma district and chairman of the speakers assigned by this bureau for the week of the 25th, are former republicans who have deserted Senator Harding because of his announced intention to scrap the league of nations. Prominent republicans and progressives from all sections of the country are volunteering their services to speak for the league and in behalf of Governor Cox. Thousands of these men and women who place Americanism above partisanship are flocking to Cox. The north and east are giving him great meetings. Practically all papers in the east admit a wonderful change. It looks like landslide for Cox and the league.

BIDS ASKED ON 40.7 MILES OF IMPROVED HIGHWAYS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 25.—Bids asked by the state highway department on federal aid projects to be opened on November 19, cover 40.7 miles of road construction. It includes 11.2 miles in McCurtain county, 4.92 miles in Pushmataha county, 17.28 miles in Wagoner county, 6.04 miles in Adair county, two miles in Latimer county and eighty-five one-hundredths in Atoka county.

The San Carlo company is to be in Ada on the evening of November 1, and is undoubtedly one of the very best grand opera troupes in the entire country. They will render the universally popular "Il Trovatore," which is admittedly the best of Verdi's operas and one of the greatest musical productions of history.

Prayer.

Prayer is the fire which connects our instruments to battery.
God waits with all we would collect.

If we connect but perfectly.
The power is there! The gifts are free.

And if I lack—it rests with me.
It is that I know not God's plan
To give in answer to our plea.
Then, shall He give, when 'tis not asked?

No, ask and ask right earnestly.
For Jesus said, "Ask, it will be given and seek—then find the way to heaven."

—Phoebe A. Naylor.

I thank Thee, God, for the perfect night.

The crown of a perfect day.
As the sunset fell in its glowing light.

And the dear day passed away.
The calm moon rose in the eastern sky.

While the stars came, one by one
And I bade farewell to the vanished day.

With its mission of service done.

Physicians Believe Auto Wreck Victim Will Recover Fully

"As well as could be expected under the circumstances."

That was the doctor's report of the condition of Miss Gertrude Carlton when asked at the Faust hospital this morning how she was improving.

"We have every hope of saving her leg," Dr. M. L. Lewis told a representative of the News. "There is a slight indication of gangrene, but we are working hard to save the tissues. If circulation can be restored, she will recover without the necessity of amputation."

Miss Carlton's right thigh was crushed in the auto wreck Sunday, October 17, in which two others were severely injured. She was caught between the toppling car and a tree. Part of the flesh remained on the tree as it was torn from the bone.

C. E. Rowlett, who was driving the wrecked car in which Miss Carlton and the others who were injured were riding, is out on bond. In the event of the girls' death, he will be held by the county on a charge of manslaughter.

He was arrested shortly after the wreck and held pending developments in the girls' condition. At present he is charged with criminal negligence.

The four great mother universities of Europe, Bologna, Paris, Oxford and Cambridge, came into existence about the same time, in the 12th century.

BANKER SAYS BOTH HARDING AND COX SAFE FOR BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—"Who becomes president will not make the slightest difference business."

"Both the candidates are safe for business."

These are the words of Richard S. Hawes, St. Louis, president of the American Bankers' association, here to attend the convention last week.

Hawes was asked if there was going to be any panicky condition before or after the election that would be blamed onto the political outcome, lack of confidence, as it were.

"In fact, I think business is so well satisfied that it is paying no attention whatever to the campaign," concluded Hawes. "I am positive we will have a good president."

"The biggest problem before the country," he said, "is to write an efficient and economically sound tax law."

Hawes has a plan to have a commission of finance created, composed of bankers, representatives of the national chamber of commerce and members of the national manufacturers' association to advise congress how to write the law.

"It will take trained economists to do it," said Hawes. "The surtax provisions of the income tax law should be rewritten in such a way that the taxes will not drive money out of industry and commerce."

MANY CALLS MADE FOR CAMPAIGN PAMPHLET

"Who's Who and Why?" democratic campaign pamphlet issued by the Oklahoma state campaign committee, has been requested for use in a dozen other places and been praised by party leaders in all parts of the country as one of the best bits of ammunition developed during the campaign, according to workers at state headquarters here.

The pamphlet contains about thirty questions dealing with congressional actions and political happenings, to each of which the answer is "Warren G. Harding." Typical questions are: "Who voted against the Hollis amendment taxing war profiteers 50 per cent?" "Who lost his own county by 964 votes when he ran for governor of Ohio?" "Who voted against prohibition thirty and for prohibition two times?" "Who endorsed the campaign slogan of 'Get the money, boys?'"

Luther Harrison, director of publicity at democratic headquarters, is author of the pamphlet. Requests for copies of "Who's Who and Why?" have come from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri and Connecticut, it was said.

MUSKOGEE MAN SUES FOR LOSS OF WIFE'S LOVE

MUSKOGEE.—Preparations for the second trial of the James Claxton-Eastman Richards suit of $150,000 scheduled for November 8 have been completed by attorneys for Claxton. It was announced today by William Neff, one of Claxton's attorneys.

The suit brought by the former white soldier against the wealthy Creek redman in which it is charged that he alienated the affection of his wife was tried in district court last October. At that time the jury awarded $2,000 to Claxton.

but the soldier said it wasn't enough for the wrongs he said he had suffered and the motion for a new trial was granted. The defense, however, appealed from the decision granted and the decision was affirmed by the supreme court of the state.

Further evidence has been obtained since the first trial. Neff said, and Claxton's attorneys will "go to bat" prepared to fight the entire amount asked in the original petition.

PAVING INCREASED PROPERTY VALUE

Lots Bring Four Times the Original Price After Street Is Paved.

"There were some of us on South Johnson who opposed paving that street when the proposition came up sometime ago," W. A. Barrett told a representative of the News this morning, "but now that we have it you cannot find one who is not glad that the street has been paved. We would not do without it."

R. C. Guest, who also lives on South Johnson, feels the same way about it, and declares that the pavement has more than doubled the value of his property.

The increase in property value on South Johnson is one of the best arguments for paving a street. There were many who were afraid that the paving would entail too much of a financial burden, but most of these were later convinced that such was not the case.

A one-acre lot belonging to Mrs. Mabel Brownell was sold just at the time that the contractors started work. At that time it brought Mrs. Brownell $700. Shortly after the paving was put in, the new owner split the property into two lots, and resold them at $750 each. The third owner has since sold them, getting $1,500 for one and $1,600 for the other.

Another small lot which was bought for $500 when the paving commenced was sold shortly afterward for $1,000, and today cannot be bought. J. L. Bryant was the original owner of this lot.

A lot with a frontage of 130 feet was sold by J. L. Barringer for $400 when the contractors started to put down the paving. A short while afterward the new owner sold 75 feet of the piece for $1,050 and still has fifty-five feet of "velvet" besides his profit on the piece sold.

From $1,500 to $4,500

One of the best examples is given by the increase in value of a piece of property owned originally by Frank Lancaster. Just before the paving was put down, the lot, which measured 130 feet front, was sold for $1,500. Immediately after the paving was put down, it was sold again for $2,850. The owner now refuses to take $4,500 for it.

Attention is called to the fact that but a small difference exists in the cost of paving then and the cost estimated by the city engineers for the paving which the city now proposes to put down.

Elks' Drive for New Members Winds Up Tonight

Today is the last day for the big drive of the Elks for new members. Both teams are to turn in their applications at the meeting tonight. Hugh Taylor is captain of the Victors and Joe Allen is captain of the Winners. Members of each team are requested to give the applications they have secured to their captains before 7 p. m.

Tonight is the regular meeting night. All that is left to do now is to count up the applications, appoint committees and determine which side wins. The losing team will have to pay for a banquet for the lodge.

Work is going right ahead on the clubrooms, and Ada Lodge will soon boast of one of the finest homes in the state. The club is being remodeled from end to end, and new furniture put in. And besides that, a buffet lunch room will be installed for the members.

BETTINA FREEMAN

WHO ADMIRES THE SHAPELY CALF ON STAGE? GUESS AGAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Who, of all theater patrons, love best to see a shapely calf, a perfect knee, a trim ankle—to say nothing of a rippling, curved, feminine back covered with nothing more beclouding than a scant dash of powder?

All who answered "the men" may go to the foot of the class, upon the word of Ann Pennington, famous dancer and expert on dimpled knees, etc. She's got 'em herself and knows.

"No, no," said Miss Pennington today in an interview with the United Press. "It's the women, bless 'em."

"Don't blame the men—the poor old bald heads—for increasing nudity on the stage. The women insist on it. The skinny old maid loves to go to the theater and see beautiful legs and soft, white arms and wonderful backs.

"She sits there and dreams she has got them herself and is as happy as a kitten with a pan of cream.

"The fat lady dotes on seeing a little girl floating around the stage in a yard of chiffon. She sees herself doing the same thing.

"I know this because I always get more applause at a matinee than I do at an evening performance."

Miss Pennington is amply backed by "La Sylphie," an Oriental dancer who wears, in her own words, "an excuse for a couple of straps."

"A man likes a shapely leg—leg, not limb—" she testified. "But he don't care for it for its own sake. He wants to see you do something with it. Pep, that's his dish.

"But a woman to be contented must look at a beautiful shape mostly in the nude subconsciously in order to consider her own."

STATES ACTIVE IN LEGISLATION FOR JUVENILES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Twenty-one years ago the relation of the father to his child partook of the nature of a property right. The courts could enforce this right, but on the other hand they were often powerless to enforce the duty of the father to his child. Since 1899 every state in the union has passed juvenile court laws except Connecticut, Maine and Wyoming, and these three states have passed laws dealing with some of the problems usually included in the juvenile court law itself. The extensiveness of this legislation is the best evidence of the previous unsatisfactory viewpoint of the law. How far the states have gone in modernizing their attitude towards the delinquent and the neglected child is shown by the bulletin made public today by the children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor, entitled "A Summary of Juvenile-Court Legislation in the United States."

Juvenile court legislation deals with a complicated group of problems; that of the child accused of breaking the law; the adult offending against the child; the neglected and degraded parent; the incompetent and unfaithful guardian; and the family that is simply poor.

Under the old law the delinquent child was dealt with in the same manner, with certain restrictions of age, as the adult offender. He was tried before a criminal court with all the formality and notoriety of a jury, sworn testimony, and confronting witnesses. If found "guilty" the child suffered the penalty. If "not guilty" he went free. In no case did the law extend any constructive help.

Of recent years, however, the law was recognized the right of the child to a reasonable minimum care of decency and of well-being. Consideration has been given to the natural impulses of youth and to the adverse conditions under which the child may have been brought up.

Because of the differences in the structure of their judicial systems, the states have had to meet the problems by various methods of legislative attack. In every state, however, the attempt has been made through legislation to solve the difficult problems involving the unfavorable conditions—domestic, social and economic—under which children are living and developing today.

The present summary embodies an analysis of the legislation in force at the beginning of 1919, with an appendix giving additional legislation and amendments enacted during 1919.

Board of Health Reports Several Diphtheria Cases

A number of cases of diphtheria are reported in different parts of the city. Warnings have been posted on the residences where the disease exists by the city board of health.

The disease was prevalent here during the early part of the summer, but had waned until only one or two cases remained. The board of health advises that precautionary measures be kept in effect to prevent spreading the disease.

U. S. TROOPS SEEKING VIRGINIA AMBUSHERS

WILLIAMSON, Va.—John Gotes superintendent of the Gates mine of the Crystal Block Mine company, was shot by unknown persons, while walking along the Mingo county road near the company store at Gates, ten miles east of Williamson, according to reports received here.

Federal troops on duty in the Mingo county strike zone immediately were sent from Spring, near Gates, to establish patrols in the woods which flank the road and from which the shots came. Also bloodhounds were hurried from Williamson to the scene in an effort to trace those responsible for the shooting.

Legionnaires Train To Give Normal Eleven Hot Fights

The American Legion football boys are practicing this evening preparatory to meeting the Normal eleven on Armistice Day. The boys are meeting on the high school campus. They are devoting their time at present to signal practice.

The legion team is to be composed entirely of former gridiron stars. Some of them have been out of the game for several seasons, but they are none the less husky, and the Normal will have to look out for their laurels.

The legionnaires are training under the direction of Capt. Frank McCain.

PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN TO IDENTIFY STUDENTS

By the Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—More than 300 students in Princeton university, mostly juniors who have enrolled in the economics course, will have their photographs taken to be used in a card index in the department of economics.

To help identify the students, each instructor will bring to the recitation rooms a small box bearing cards, on which, will be the name, seat number and photograph of a student.

Prof. Frank A. Fetter, head of the department of economics, said the teacher had been handicapped wherever he meets himSHRDLU by not knowing each student by name wherever he meets him and that the proposed scheme should enable an instructor to get acquainted with all in his class within a few days.

This plan was used here with marked success in the student army training courses during the world war.

FULTON DELIVERS MASTERLY SPEECH

The strongest argument ever made in Ada for ratifying the league of nations was delivered in the district court room Saturday night by Former Congressman Elmer L. Fulton of Oklahoma City. In spite of the very unfavorable weather eighty citizens assembled at the court house to hear the Oklahoma City orator discuss the issues of the day.

"Following a legislative performance that for constructive legislation is unequalled in American history we were plunged into an unexampled war," said Mr. Fulton. "That war found us unprepared. The timber that formed our sea-going vessels and that fashioned our cantonments were still standing in the forests when war was declared. The steel that made our shells was still unmined in the peninsulas of Michigan. Yet ninety days after the declaration of hostilities we had completed to the last nail thirty-two cantonments each ample to accommodate 40,000 soldiers. One year from our entrance into the world struggle our flag was floating from 3,000 mastsheads and we had a million soldiers on the soil of France. The story of our performance in those grim days of peril seems like the fabric of a dream.

"Yet in spite of a record that will be the pride of America as long as our constitution survives and our flag floats in the heavens, a republican national convention was too narrow to acknowledge our debt to the boys who died for the republic and the republican campaign book ignores by way of praise the greatest achievement of history.

"Eighty investigating committees looking for campaign material instead of searching for the truth, have spent $2,000,000 in an eager quest for evidence that would discredit a democratic administration, but they have utterly failed to find where one dollar was spent dishonestly and the only high official on the road to prison today is a republican senator from Michigan.

"Opponents of the only plan ever devised to preserve peace declare that foreign nations could force the United States into foreign wars. How could that be done under the league covenant? Nine men sit in council to consider world problems. One of these is representing the United States. Suppose the council is voting on the question of going to war and each member in turn votes in favor of the declaration. Finally when eight have voted for war, the name of the American representative is called and he votes 'No.' Inasmuch as the vote must be unanimous before war could be begun, the one American vote would absolutely prevent war. Under such an arrangement it is impossible to force the United States into war. And if our representative votes in favor of war, we are not forced in, but thru our own accredited representative we are voting ourselves in. Even the decision of the council will be submitted to the American congress for its ratification or rejection.

"Our opponents are fond of saying 'America First.' But what do they mean by America first. America first in what? First as an international bully or first as an international benefactor? First as a military monster or first as a minister of justice? First in destruction of life and property or first in the preservation of life and property? First in the dispensation of death and terror or first in the dispensation of life and mercy? There are many ways in which America can be first and we choose they way that will bless the world in preference to the way that would curse the world."

MAYOR MacSWINEY IRISH RUNGER STRIKER, DEAD

The first was whether King George could properly exercise his pardoning prerogative independently of or against the advice of his ministers. The second was whether the Catholic clergy, representing a church which holds suicide to be a crime, could consistently administer the sacraments to hunger strikers. The king's reply through the secretary of state for war, to the petitions of members of parliament was generally interpreted to mean that the king's personal leaning was toward granting a pardon. But, since Premier Lloyd George and the foreign minister, A. Bonar Law, were at the same time issuing arguments against clemency for the lord mayor it was evident that any action in that direction by the king would be against the advice of his ministers.

The newspapers published many editorials and letters setting forth, on one hand, that King George should not be embarrassed by direct appeals to him, and, on the other hand, that he should and had the right to exercise his nominal constitutional power of pardoning.

The Weekly Nation, which is one of the most advanced liberal organs and not generally rated as a supporter of monarchy, argued that this was an occasion for the king to vindicate his constitutional right and protect the country from ETA and protect the country against the growing autocracy of the cabinet. There were many other arguments to the same effect, one historical writer, combatting the theory that the king always had been a cipher in such matters, exhorted a new story in the annals of British monarchy, telling how George VI described by Thackeray as the weakest and least admirable character in the line of British kings, used to pace the council chamber with tears pleading for the pardon of criminals and sometimes carry his point, although once when he wrote to the viceroy of Ireland granting pardon to a murderer he was compelled by the cabinet to cancel his edict.

One of the chief reasons put forward by MacSwiney's advocates, although advocated from anti-Sinn Fein quarters, was that the offenses of which MacSwiney was convicted were so comparatively light they did not justify his suffering even though voluntarily. Premier Lloyd George's reply was that MacSwiney was undoubtedly a high officer of the "Irish Republic army" which decreed and executed murders of officials and police in Ireland. The republican army, unlike the Sinn Fein, is purely a secret organization. The identity of its officers and persons is kept from the public and there is doubt even whether the Sinn Fein controls it or officially knows its workings.

The logical argument over the course of Bishop Colahan and MacSwiney's chaplain, the Rev. Father Dominic, in, as critics say, encouraging him to commit suicide, was largely biblical. The Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, was the only priest who publicly criticized them. A lecture which he was to deliver in Glasgow, a center of labor unionism, had to be cancelled on account of the unpopularity his words brought upon him.

The human aspect of the lord mayor's hunger strike was the one that chiefly interested British people and compelled the sympathy of even the hardest political enemies. Mrs. Mac Swiney and his brothers and sisters were treated everywhere with respect and on their side had nothing but good to say of the jailers and police with whom they had to deal.

Any way out of MacSwiney's imprisonment except his death would have been welcomed by the public but his family were as firm as MacSwiney in refusing to listen to any end except release or death. There can be no doubt the Irish republicans believed MacSwiney had given their cause the most valuable service in his power and that, like John Brown "he will trouble you more than ever when you have nailed his coffin down."

MacSwiney's hunger strike was begun on August 12 when, with ten of his associates, he was arrested by soldiers in Cork while attending a session of a Sinn Fein court. After trial by a courtmartial under the regulations of the defense of the realm act, he was found guilty of sedition and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, which he was serving in Brixton prison in London.

MacSwiney, then an alderman of Cork, was elected lord mayor of the city at a special session of the Cork corporation on March 30 of this year. He was a well-known Sinn Fein leader and, prior to his election, had been deported and imprisoned several times, one of the latest notable instances of his confinement having been in 1916 in connection with the Irish Easter revolt.

When arrested on August 12, MacSwiney managed to escape to the street from the back of the city hall, which soldiers had surrounded, but was captured outside. He was taken to the military barracks and came up for trial on August 16. The courtmartial found him guilty of having control of the secret police cipher, of having in his possession a document likely to cause dissatisfaction, namely, a copy of a resolution of the Cork corporation pledging allegiance to the Dail Eireann, the Irish republican parliament, and of having made a seditious speech on the occasion of his election.

Already weak at the trial because of his refusal to take food, MacSwiney disputed the jurisdiction of the court, saying: "I am the lord mayor of this city and its chief magistrate. I declare this court illegal and those taking part in it liable to arrest under the laws of the Irish republic."

The day following his trial, Lord

Mayor MacSwiney was deported to England aboard a destroyer, under a heavy military escort and was lodged in Brixton jail. The government announced on August 19 that he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

MacSwiney's hunger strikes brought numerous solicitations and protests to the British authorities, many of the appeals being from sympathizers in the United States. Even a threat from the Sinn Fein in Ireland, that, in the event of his death, a general strike and serious disturbances would prevail throughout the island. An appeal was taken directly to the king but this also proved unavailing.

During his imprisonment, the lord mayor received numerous messages of encouragement and also petitions to abandon his strike. He replied to the latter that if he gave up his fight he would "give away Irish liberty" and that he would "rather die than do that."

Replying to reports that sustenance was being given May MacSwiney, the British home office declared "if he is being fed we do not know it," while members of MacSwiney's family denied categorically that food had been given him.

Peter MacSwiney, of New York, a brother of the lord mayor, is an official of the American Commission for Irish Independence.
